WORLD HEAL DAY 2025

World Health Day is observed every year on 7th of April in order to create awareness and emphasis on its importance among the public and health workers in the hospital and community. The theme of this year was “healthy beginnings, hopeful futures”.

We have celebrated World Health Day on 7th April 2024, which was organized by the department of Obstetrics & Gynecological of Nursing, department of medical surgical department of child health nursing under the guidance and supervision of Prof. Dr. G. Ramalakshmi, (Dean/ Principal), SGRRU, SGRRIM&HS College of Nursing.

As per our schedule on that day role play was done by B.Sc. Nursing 6th and 7th semester and GNM 2nd year students for the Antenatal mothers to teach and guide them regarding maternal and Newborn care in the obstetrics ward of SMIH. The main emphasis of performing the role play was to make people aware about the importance of maternal and newborn care both for mother and baby.

The role play was then followed by the Poster display along with health education. The main area of concern was to make people aware about the importance of maternal and new born care.

The program ended with the distribution of snacks to the patients and students.
